Pantons win crud tourney
Warriors ready to compete at PACAF level

The 35th Fighter Squadron Pantons clawed their way to the top, running over the 80th Fighter Squadron Juvats with two lives left in the 8th Fighter Wing single elimination crud tournament at the Loring Club July 6.

Hailing victory over 12 teams that competed in the tournaments over the span of two Fridays, the Pantons won the right to represent the Wolf Pack at the PACAF crud tournament at Hickam Air Force Base, Hawaii, Oct. 3-5.

Both the Pantons and Juvats were neck to neck in the final game, but the Pantons edged their way ahead, exhausting the last life out of the Juvats.

“The semi-finals and finals were a nailbiter,” said Beale. “It was really close all the way up to the end.”

The 8th Services Squadron and combined U.S. Army Echo and Foxtrot Batteries 1st Battalion 43rd Air Defense Artillery bid farewell in the first rounds of the June 29 tournament, opening up the game for other squadrons. Some squadrons had as many as three teams on a conquest to represent the wing, but the Pantons defended their title.

“All teams were tough competitors,” Plourde said. “But every time you have the 80th FS and the Pantons together, we’re going to have that rivalry.” The rivalry may exist, but it’s all part of having a good time, he said.

The Wolf Pack team is ready to converge with other bases for the coveted PACAF championship title.

“I expect our Wolf Pack team to dominate the competition,” said Col. Burt Field, 8th Fighter Wing commander. “There will be tough competitors, but as we are fond of saying, ‘May God have mercy on the Wolf Pack’s prey.’”
